FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF OCEAN BEACH, POINT LOMA, MISSION BAY AND MISSION BEACH

Twenty-third Year No. 1 | Phone Bayview 3157 | Friday, October 20, 1944 | Five Cents a Copy | Ocean Beach, California

Tax Bills to be Mailed Beginning On October 24th

Ocean Beach taxpayers will begin to get their tax bills for the year 1944 the last week in this month, according to information received this week by The News from County Tax Collector Sam A. Claggett. He says he will start mailing all tax bills, where address is complete, beginning October 24.

He emphasizes, however, that "if property has been purchased since the first Monday in March, the lien date, it will appear on the 1944 tax rolls in the name of the former owner of the property, and in that case the purchaser, if he has not already done so, should apply to the county tax collector's office in Civic Center for his tax bill. Furthermore, any taxpayer who does not receive his tax bill by Nov. 6 should notify the same office because by that date tax bills should be in the hands of all to whom they are mailed."

The legal announcement by Mr. Claggett, published on another page in this issue of The News, emphasizes that "the taxes on all personal property secured by real property and one half of the taxes on all real property will be due on Nov. 1 and will become delinquent on Dec. 5 and unless paid prior thereto six percent will be added to the amount thereof, and that if said half be not paid before April 20, 1945 an extra three percent penalty will be added thereto. Though the due date of taxes is not until Nov. 1, for the convenience of the taxpayers the tax payments will be accepted beginning Oct. 25."

Motor Boat and Fishing Equipment Reported Stolen

Property on the Ocean Beach side of Mission Bay was subjected to at least two thefts during the past week, according to reports of the owners as made to the local police.

Jack Lamberton of 4824 West Point Loma blvd. reported to the officers that a door to his boathouse on the shore of Mission Bay had been forced open and fishing equipment valued at $191 had been stolen some time during Tuesday. Indications were that the thieves, believed to have been boys acting like pirates, had rowed up to the platform at the rear of the Lamberton home and had loaded the equipment and made off with it by boat.

Mrs. Harold Harwood, 5067 Niagara ave., another Ocean Beach property owner, reported to the police Saturday that an outboard motor boat which she had moored in Mission Bay near the causeway had been stolen.

KIWANIANNES ENJOY SOCIAL MEETING AT HOME OF MRS. F. R. FELT

October meeting of the Kiwaniannes was in the form of a social affair held at the home of Mrs. Frank R. Felt, 4475 Del Monte ave. Tuesday evening.

A novel feature of the dinner served was a "curry" meat dish, served India style. The hostess prepared the dish as she had learned to do in India when she and Dr. Felt had duty there as missionaries for many years. She was assisted in the serving by Mrs. J. W. Wilhoit, Mrs. Myron Insko and Mrs. James F. Roberts.

A short business session was followed by a social hour.

FRED H. KRAFT ASSISTS IN WELCOMING BRICKER

Assemblyman Fred H. Kraft, Ocean Beach, was among the prominent local Republican leaders who welcomed Gov. John W. Bricker, Republican vice-presidential nominee, to San Diego Tuesday. Kraft made the trip to Santa Ana and accompanied the Ohio governor and wife to San Diego on their special train.

Bricker conducted a press conference on his arrival in San Diego and spoke at Lane field that evening to an estimated 7,000. His talk was preceded by an entertainment program put on by Hollywood celebrities, with Leo Carrillo as master of ceremonies and Ginger Rogers as the one who introduced Bricker. Incidentally, she proved herself a top-notch political speaker as well as movie star. A large delegation of Ocean Beach folks attended the event.

Freeman of 4845 Narragansett ave., has returned to the States and is now stationed at the Miramar Marine air depot after a long period of service in the central Pacific. Major Vaughan is believed to be the first Allied flier to land a plane on Jap-mandated territory in this war. Leading his squadron he made the landing on the little coral isle of Roi-Namur in the Marshalls in February, 1944. Vaughan led his squadron on night patrols as well as on dive bombing and strafing missions from Tarawa, the Marshalls and Saipan.

ROY W. PHILLIPS, CHIEF YEOMAN, DIES SUDDENLY OF HEART ATTACK OCT. 16

Roy W. Phillips, a retired chief yeoman in the Navy, succumbed Monday, Oct. 16, to a heart attack, with which he was stricken suddenly, at his home, 4983 Newport ave. He was 60 years old, and is survived by the widow, Mrs. Charlotte L. Phillips. Ocean Beach had been his home for 19 years.

Plan is to hold the funeral services Saturday afternoon, Oct. 21, at 3:30 in the chapel of the Johnson-Saum mortuary, with Chaplain C. E. Tatum officiating. Cremation will follow.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS PLAN FOR LARGE CROWD AT BAZAAR AND DANCE

Royal Neighbors of Ocean Beach are planning for a large crowd at their old time dance and bazaar to be held this Friday evening at the Woman's clubhouse, 2160 Bacon st. A full evening of entertainment is promised, to last from 8 to midnight, and the dancing is to be free, say those in charge. Refreshments are to be served.

The bazaar, for which the women have been working for several months, is being staged in order to raise funds for the welfare activity that is being carried on by the lodge.

LOCAL MAN HONORED

James B. Abbey, 4430 Long Branch ave., Ocean Beach, was honored in San Diego Tuesday when Gov. John W. Bricker, Republican vice - presidential nominee, while in San Diego, recommended the election of Abbey, the Republican nominee for congress from this district.

"Pointers" Share Lead in Victory Football League

Point Loma high "Pointers," along with the San Diego high "Hillers," now top the Victory high school football league by virtue of their decisive victories of last Friday. The "Pointers" trounced Grossmont 27 to 2 and the "Hillers" overwhelmed Coronado 49 to 0. La Jolla high won from Sweetwater 20 to 0 in the other league game of the day.

This (Friday) afternoon Point Loma takes on La Jolla on the latter's field and a week from today, they will be back again on the home gridiron for a game with Coronado.

In Friday's game, played on Ross field, Coach Wm. Maxwell's lads played mid-season ball and won the game largely on forward passes and pass interceptions. The pass combination of the two Toms, Tom Jones to Tom Wilson, featured the game. Jones' pass to Bill Foran, good for 60 yards, scored the Lomans first touchdown in the first period.

Harold Medina pounced on a rolling ball in the end zone from Grossmont center's wild pass in the second period for the second counter, and Tom Jones scored both touchdowns in the final quarter, both of which were set up by the Lomans alert defense in pass interception. The final counter was in the last minute of the game.

YOUTH INSTALLATION SERVICE HELD SUNDAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

Installation service for the senior high youth featured Sunday forenoon's service at Point Loma Methodist church, with Carleton Bingham installed as president and vice-president of the commission on worship and evangelism. Other vice-presidents installed were the following:

Anne Carmody, commission on world friendship; Alice Hall, commission on community service; Margie Mishler, commission on recreation and leisure.

Miss Esther Batt, counselor for the junior high youth, presented to the church a group of 40 youngsters, to whom Rev. J. F. Roberts presented the youth fellowship pins signifying membership in the fellowship and loyalty to the church.

His sermon was on the subject, "Christian Youth at Work." For the coming Sunday forenoon service, he announces his sermon subject will be "Christian Young Adults at Work in the Church." To this service he issues a special invitation to the young adults of the community.

LONG LINES OF PARCEL SENDERS AT POSTOFFICE ON SATURDAY AND MONDAY

Saturday and Monday looked like pre-Christmas rush at the Ocean Beach postoffice, with last-minute senders of Christmas presents to the army personnel overseas forming long lines in front of the parcel window. Monday was the final day of the Sept. 15 to Oct. 16 period for mailing Christmas overseas parcels to the army.

Special Clerk Irving A. Johnston estimated Thursday that approximately 700 packages had been mailed here Saturday and more than 1,000 Monday. Most of the packages were for army personnel, he said, as no time limit has been set on mailing packages to the Navy personnel.

Air Tragedy Off Pt. Loma Results In Death of 13

Meager reports have come in of one of the worst air-sea wrecks in San Diego history, in which at least 13 airmen are reported to have been killed. The crash is reported to have been about 15 miles off Pt. Loma and to have happened late Tuesday.

Bodies of the victims were recovered from a wreckage-strewn area of the sea and brought to a San Diego mortuary. Cause of the tragedy remained a mystery to the civilian public pending results of an investigation reportedly now under way by the Eleventh Naval district headquarters.

The type of the plane involved also has not yet been made public. At first it was believed that two planes had collided but later information indicated that only one crashed.

Ocean Beach Camp and Hospital

By ONA E. PITCOCK

Last week we had 73 dozen cookies and a birthday cake. The cake was donated by Mrs. R. N. Noonan. Miss Nye said with what was brought in from our ladies in San Diego we had about 80 dozen.

Don't forget we need all the Christmas cards we can get for the hospital boys to mail to their friends and relatives. Get these in as soon as possible.

We need clothes hangers wire or wooden with the rod across for pants to hang on. Many new boys have arrived so these articles are badly needed. If each family would only give one it would be such a help.

Did you know that we have up at Camp and Hospital, 4769 Del Monte, many beautiful aprons, pillow tops, clothes pin aprons, laundry bags, etc. made of fine materials and well made at prices from 75 cents up. They will make nice Christmas presents and the proceeds will go for articles to pack in the Christmas boxes.

Please don't forget to go to the blood donor center and give your pint of blood to save a life.

Bring in your Christmas cards and clothes hangers and never forget that Wednesday is cookie day.

Thank letter of Oct. 9 from the Red Cross field director at the Naval hospital follows:

"The generous amount of home made cookies and delicious cakes which you sent to us recently were greatly appreciated and enjoyed by the patients. A party was given in a small ward the day that we received these 'goodies' and they really made the party a success. Please accept our hearty thanks for your continued interest in the patients in this hospital."

MRS. NELLE R. BOUD,
Field Director.

W.S.C.S. TO HOLD SERIES OF FOUR STUDIES ON "THE AMERICAN INDIAN"

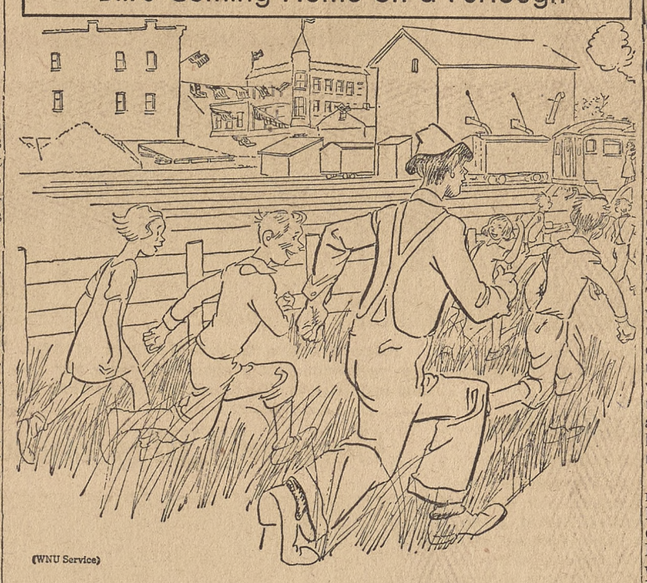

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Point Loma Methodist church will soon begin a series of four studies on the "Indian in the American Life." These studies were introduced yesterday in the regular monthly meeting in the form of a "Pow-Wow" at the church. The first class will be held on Thursday, Oct. 26 from 10:00 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. at the home of Rev. and Mrs. James F. Roberts, 4604 Newport under the leadership of Mrs. Vernon Gerhardt. A nursery attendant to care for small children will be provided. Each lady is asked to bring sandwiches, and a hostess committee will complete the light luncheon. A cordial invitation is extended to all women in the community who might be intrested in a morning of profitable study and friendly fellowship, announce the officers of the group.

WIDOW OF OFFICER OF MARINES KILLED LIVED YEAR IN OCEAN BEACH

Mrs. Betty Galbreath, whose husband, 1st. Lt. James Robert Galbreath of the Marine Corps was killed in action early this month in the south Pacific, was a resident of Ocean Beach for for about one year. Her address was 5075 Voltaire st. at the Paradise court.

She had received the sad news from the navy department in Washington on Oct. 5, while she was celebrating the first birthday anniversary of their only child, Gayle, a baby girl. Mrs. Galbreath left Oct. 12 for her folks' home in Seattle. Her husband, who was on his second trip overseas when killed, was from Peoria, Ill.

OCEAN BEACH NEWS STARTS TWENTY-THIRD YEAR OF PUBLICATION

The Ocean Beach News last week concluded 22 years of publication, which means that the "water under the bridge" consists of 1144 issues of this newspaper. According to old timers here, Ocean Beach did not amount to much 22 years ago, so the inference is that this newspaper has grown up along with Ocean Beach, which community now boasts more than 15,000 population. The record shows that The News has been a consistent booster for Ocean Beach and that this promotion has not been without results.

Today's issue, accordingly, is the first of a new newspaper year, and is technically designated as Volume 23, paper number one.

Ocean Beach USO

A formal USO Hallowe'en dance will be held here Saturday, Oct. 28. James Joyce's orchestra will furnish the music and the Hallowe'en theme will be carried out throughout the program, with special refreshments and decorations.

The monthly meeting of the Citizens committee will be held at the clubrooms at 7:30 at which all problems regarding the operation of the club will be brought up. At the last monthly meeting in September Mrs. Arlene Stone was appointed housing chairman. Some new furnishings are being planned and the club hopes it will be able to obtain them.

Two Car Crashes In Ocean Beach Area Past Week

Two car accidents happened in the Ocean Beach area during the past week, according to report made to the police. Arne J. Bjorklund, 23, of San Diego suffered bruises when the motorcycle he was riding crashed into a car driven by Paul W. Farrar of 4611 Newport ave. The accident happened at the intersection of Browning and Clove streets.

The other crash was between a street bus driven by Carl E. Watts, 37, of National ave., San Diego, and a car driven by Roy T. McNew, 25, of Southgate, according to the police report, and happened in Ocean Beach at the intersection of Cable st. and Coronado Sunday morning. The crash was so loud it was heard many blocks away, residents reported.

In this accident, two of the passengers on the bus were slightly injured, the police report, being Mrs. I. H. Hanson and Dora Hanson, both of 726 Cordova st., San Diego.

LITERATURE GROUP OF WOMAN'S CLUB WILL HEAR BOOK REVIEW

The literature department of the Ocean Beach Woman's club will meet next on Monday evening, Oct. 23, in the clubhouse, 2160 Bacon st., with a book review to be given by Mrs. Julia McGarvey, as the feature of the program. Women of Ocean Beach, whether members of the club or not, are cordially invited to attend the meeting, the hour for starting being 8 o'clock.

Education Board Accepts Federal Offer of $207,000

San Diego board of education Tuesday accepted Uncle Sam's offer of $207,000 to help finance, and, in fact, to provide the major part of the money necessary, for construction of the proposed annex to Dana Junior high school.

Imperative need for the additional room has arisen since the construction of the federal housing project which has brought hundreds of new pupils to this area, according to Principal Clarence Swenson.

Preliminary plans for the annex, construction of which is due to begin in a few weeks, call for two metal shops, a print shop, a mechanical drawing room, two cooking and two sewing laboratories, five standard classrooms, a cafeteria room and kitchen, a speech arts room, a room for choral classes, and one for orchestra.

Dana school is now in its third year, the construction of the first unit having been opened in the fall of 1941. The second unit was built by the federal government and the proposed annex will be the third unit.

Kiwanis Club Entertained by Rice, Magician

A program of magic that would have done credit to a professional entertained the Ocean Beach Kiwanis club Tuesday evening, at the Woman's clubhouse. Chester A. Rice, owner of the Pacific Artificial Limb Co. of San Diego was the entertainer and was introduced by Father Philip Harris, the program chairman for the evening. Rice called on several of the members to assist in the tricks, and to their discomfiture as a matter of course.

Milt Lancaster, reporting on the divisional inter-club meeting held in San Diego Thursday evening, Oct. 12, stated that 18 of the local members were in attendance.

Kiwanis guests here Tuesday evening were George Wixen of the East San Diego club and Lt. Wm. B.Huie of the Phoenix, Ariz. club. A military guest was Lt. Ralph G. Kregoski, a Marine officer home in Ocean Beach after 27 months of duty in the south Pacific.

Ladies' Night Next

Next Tuesday, Oct. 24, will be Ladies' Night for the Ocean Beach Kiwaniannes, with the Kiwanians as hosts. Special for this occasion will be a program, which Dr. W. B. Oster, as program chairman, has arranged, featuring Prof. King Povenmire, professional dramatist of the San Diego Army-Navy Y.M.C.A. He will read and dramatize the book, "Green Pastures."

FORMER OCEAN BEACH BARBER DIES IN L. A.

Bertrand B. Sayles, 62, a former Ocean Beach barber, died suddenly in Los Angeles early this month, and his funeral was held Monday this week, with services conducted by Rev. J. F. Roberts at Bonham Bros. mortuary. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery. The services was delayed awaiting word from his son, Wm. E. Sayles, who is on duty with the Merchant Marine in the Pacific theatre. His widow lives at 4796 Brighton ave.

War Plants Going Over Top on War Chest Campaign

Mrs. Paul Hendrickson is nearing the end of her canvass of the Ocean Beach business district, and Mrs. C. W. Early, the other chairman of the San Diego War Chest campaign for the Ocean Beach area, and her captains and the volunteer workers are progressing in their effort, Mrs. Early reported Thursday. She reports that the war plants and the business district down town are going well over their quota, but the fact that the Ocean Beach war plant workers are making their donations where they work is naturally holding down the donations here. Convair alone is reported to have given $131,250.

Mrs. Early plans to make a more detailed report at the next luncheon meeting of the headquarters of the drive at the San Diego hotel Tuesday. Captains working under Mrs. Early are Mrs. L. A. Duer, Mrs. E. A. Kraft jr., Mrs. R. J. Long and Mrs. Carl Zorn.

While no quota has been set for Ocean Beach the asking for all of San Diego is $979,021, this being the third annual war appeal and the campaign dates are Oct. 9 to Nov. 11. Headquarters reports 74 agencies are included in this campaign, as follows:

Twenty-two member agencies of the National War fund, including USO, War Prisoners' Aid, United Seamen's Service, and United Nations war relief to Britain, China, Russia and our other valiant Allies ask for $464,565.

Thirty-six youth-serving, family counseling, child welfare, and neighborly aid organizations of the Community Chest of San Diego, such as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Children's Convalescent Home, Boys' and Girls' Aid society, and many others ask for $370,218.

Eleven local funds for recreation and youth and welfare needs throughout the county, such as Coronado, Chula Vista, Escondido, Vista, and others, ask for $25,000.

Five special wartime projects, the Naval Aid Auxiliary, Officers' Lounge, War Savings committee, Salvation Army Global War Program, and Cancer control, ask for $39,738.

Miscellaneous items about $80,000.

OCEAN BEACH SCHOOL NEWS

On Tuesday, the sale of stamps and bonds amounted to $499.70. Of this amount, $365.25 was for bonds and $143.45 was for stamps. The fourth grade, room 9, was high in sales this week.

A school committee has been formed to increase the buying of stamps and bonds and each child is urged to purchase through the school. The membership of the committee chosen from the rooms, are: Grade 6, Clare Whaling and Ruth Miller; grade 5, Joan Clemons and Nancy Abbey; grade 4, Mary Ward and Richard Homer; grade 3, Phyllis Jacobs; grade 2, Anne Farris. Nancy Abbey was chosen chairman of the group. Each room has set a quota to be reached by June. The total of the room quotas will give the school a quota. The school quota will determine which weapon we buy in the "Name Your Weapon" campaign that is now being conducted in many schools throughout the state.

Parents who buy bonds or stamps may do so through the school thereby giving us credit for the sales, and helping us attain our goal. We want to make Ocean Beach near the top in sales by June.

The first grade in room 16 is studying the grocery store. They made a trip to a grocery store on Newport to learn about shopping. They have made a grocery store with Allan Crouch as the manager, Barbara Willis as the check girl, Walter Brashear as the clerk, and Stephen Aldridge as the delivery boy. The first grade children have a home in connection with the store. The family members are Carol Ann Frederick, Mike Ambrose and Ruth Lynn Haglund.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nazi Resistance Grows in West; Chinese War in Critical Stage; Strong Cattle Markets Forecast

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Dark shaded areas on map show extent of Japanese occupation of China, and progress of drive along east coast to seal it off to counteract possible U. S. landings.

EUROPE:
Nazis Fight Back

Long famed for artillery fire, U. S. army units brought their big guns into full play as dogged doughboys slugged their way through the Siegfried line above Aachen in the face of mounting German resistance.

Although the main fighting focused above Aachen, action remained heavy along the whole 460 mile front, with the Germans seeking to unsettle Allied advances with strong armored counterattacks.

With an array of 75 to 240-mm. field pieces laying a creeping barrage before advancing doughboys, and with squads of tanks rumbling over the countryside to blast enemy strongpoints at short range, Lieut. Gen. Courtney Hodges' Third American army tore a big hole through the vaunted Siegfried line, finding stationary defenses manned by inferior German troops, with the best saved as reserves for counterattacking.

Equally bitter fighting raged on either side of the Third army sector, with the Nazis counterattacking strongly around Nijmegen in Holland to blunt the British Second army's end run around the Siegfried line in the north, and elite enemy troops putting up stiff resistance to doughboys flushing them out of the great underground fortifications guarding Metz, key to the coal-laden Saar basin.

On the southern anchor of the western front, the enemy fought back viciously from prepared defenses in the rolling countryside in an effort to stop the U. S. Seventh army's thrust toward passes in the Vosges mountains and the wide Belfort Gap leading into southern Germany.

In Italy, the U. S. Fifth army pushed closer to the great communications center of Bologna, through which the enemy has been routing reinforcements to his sagging Po Valley front.

As the Russians increased their pressure against Hungary, and other Red forces drove across Yugoslavia for a junction with U. S. and British units, the Germans were put to it to plug up the Balkan gateway to southern Germany.

Although the Nazis reportedly succeeded in withdrawing the bulk of 200,000 men from the southern Balkans before the British invasion of Greece and the Russian drive to sever communication lines along their escape route, the Reds pressed to nip off the straggling remnants.

In driving across eastern Yugoslavia, the Russians overran rich metal deposits around Bor, which the Germans had been working extensively, and enveloped the capital of Belgrade. With Romanian troops fighting by their side, the Reds advanced to within 135 miles of Budapest, heart of Hungary.

CATTLE MARKET:
Prices Strong

Large government purchases of low-grade beef, and decreased hog shipments in the face of big demand, will tend to keep market prices at a high level this fall and winter, the department of agriculture reported.

Because of the sale of more range cattle than last year, however, and the relatively smaller marketings of finished grades, overall prices may average lower than in 1943. With a much larger prospective supply, calves are also expected to fall below last year's prices.

At ceiling prices throughout midsummer, hog prices are expected to remain high through the next six months, with the government in the market for the smaller pork supplies reflecting the 24 per cent reduction in the spring pig crop.

MISCELLANY

The first B-29 Superfortress cost $3,392,396.90. Current production models are costing $600,000.

Into the cost of the first model of any warplane go all the years of engineering, experiments, tests and changes. The very time it takes costs money—and the minimum time from the first design of a new plane to the completion of the first production model is about three years. Sometimes it takes five years.

POSTWAR INDUSTRY:
Fear Concentration

To prevent the concentration of industry in 11 northern and eastern states in the postwar period, a senate committee recommended that the government stand against the reconversion of its war plants in these states to civilian production.

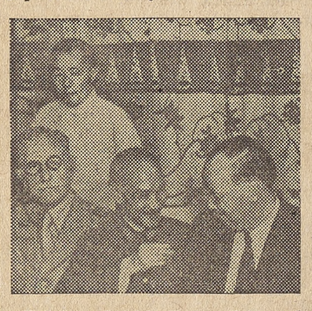

Indicating the possibilities of such concentration, the committee pointed out that before the war these 11 states produced 65 per cent of the nation's manufactured goods and received 51 per cent of all plants and facilities erected by the government for the war effort.

Besides calling for a shifting of war production to the south and west after Germany's downfall, the committee recommended an adjustment of freight rates, attention to patents, and technological aid to small industrialists as part of a long range program for stabilizing business in these areas.

CHINA:
In Crisis

News from China recently has been none too rosy, with the country's armies falling back before the Japs' drive to seal off the whole eastern coast to counter an attempted American landing, and the U. S. air force compelled to abandon four advanced bases before the enemy's push.

In an effort to help China help herself, President Roosevelt dispatched ex-War Production Board Czar Donald Nelson to confer with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in the building of an integrated industry to exploit the country's vast resources.

With Chinese industry largely undeveloped, the Japs blockading the eastern ports, and mountainous terrain and primitive roads handicapping the overland route from Burma, valiant Chinese armies have been sorely ill-equipped.

With Chiang's regime losing much face as a result of successive military defeats, the Chinese political situation also has been blurred, with the Communists pressing for greater power in government.

PACIFIC:
Jap Ship Shortage

Effect of the heavy U. S. aerial and naval campaign against Japanese shipping in far Pacific waters was reflected in the Tokyo radio's announcement that a shortage in ocean tonnage had contributed to a food crisis. Flood and drought were other factors mentioned.

Tokyo admitted the critical shipping situation as the destruction of 31 more vessels by U. S. warplanes and subs was revealed, and as army fliers intensified their attacks on enemy craft plying in the Philippine area.

One of the principal U. S. targets was the great oil storage center of Balikpapan on Borneo.

EXPORTS

Best customers for U. S. goods in 1941 were Great Britain, which took 31.8 per cent of our total exports of $5,147,000,000 including lend-lease; Canada, 19.3 per cent; Egypt, 4.9 per cent; and South Africa, 3.6 per cent.

With 16.5 per cent, Canada sold U. S. the greatest percentage of foreign goods, with British Malaya second with 10.3 per cent, and the Netherlands Indies third with 7.2 per cent. Brazil followed with 5.5 per cent and Cuba with 5.4 per cent.

Japs in Manila Bay Bombed by Halsey's Torpedos

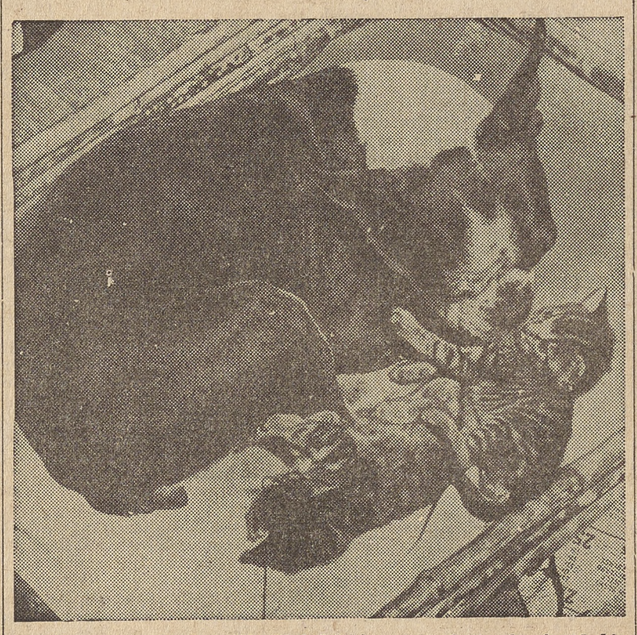

Navy Avenger Torpedo bombers of Adm. William F. Halsey Jr.'s Third fleet caught a large Japanese merchant fleet napping in Manila bay and sank most of the ships, at the same time setting fire to many land installations. The attack lasted two days. Photos show the smoke rising from burning ships and land targets.

German Cities Show Results of Allied Might

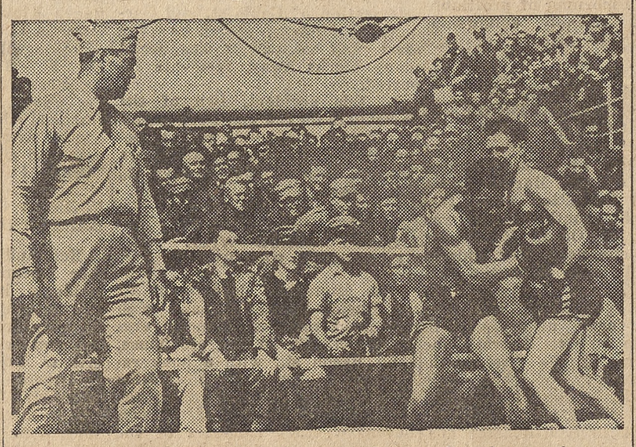

Shelled and bombed buildings in the city of Stolberg, Germany, give some idea of the severity of the battle that took place between the Germans and Americans. (Left) German cities are beginning to show the results of war in the same way that other European countries have. (Right) Germans leave their homes which were shelled by the Nazis in an attempt to dislodge the strong foothold gained by American troops. The Americans won, but the city was laid in ruins.

Here's One for Anyone's Books

When Jack H. Leopold, Philadelphia, came home he found his Boston bull, who was an expectant mother, nursing these kittens. The door of the apartment was locked. Where "Tootsie" got the kittens is not known, but she has taken a very maternal interest in them.

Jack Dempsey Refereeing Bout

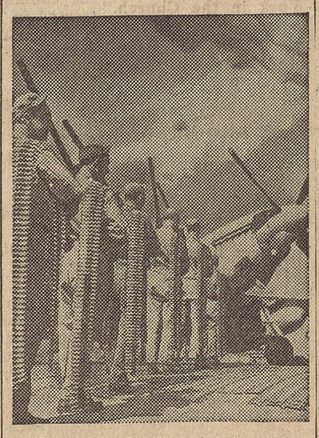

Coast Guard Comdr. Jack Dempsey, former ring champ, gives an added punch to a shipboard boxing show when he steps into the roped arena as referee. Dempsey is called upon almost daily to referee bouts in addition to his work as physical instructor. He has been busy developing a new string of world contenders.

Entertains Buddies

Not all the entertainment furnished the GI Joes comes from stage and screen stars. Corp. Viro Capezio, Philadelphia, does his share with accordion solos near Fraimbois, France, to keep up the morale of his overseas buddies. While hundreds of troopers have given their services to the USO to entertain the uniform forces, the visits to isolated units are rather rare. Most units have their own musical instruments and offer instructions in many cases.

Bullets for Axis

These are for the six .50-calibre machine guns used in the new U. S. army Eighth air force, P-51 Mustang fighters. The cartridge belts being carried represent the amount used by only one gun on a flight.

GIVE TO THE WAR CHEST

San Diego's quota in the second annual War Chest appeal now under way is $979,021. The funds go to USO, War Prisoners Aid, United Seamen's Service, American Field Service and the relief agencies of America's fighting allies. Also provided for are many home front health, welfare and character-building agencies. Seventy-four agencies, including 22 national war units are in the War Chest.

We know that our war agencies are doing a magnificient job in helping our fighting men both at home and abroad. Their services even reach into enemy countries to bring our men, who are prisoners, food, books, sporting equipment and everything else which can possibly be provided.

The quota for San Diego should be over-subscribed, for this city more than many others, has met the harsh facts of war face to face. Among the men of Bataan, now behind the barbed wire of Japanese prison camps are several sons of San Diego. To our shores are brought the wounded from the bitter engagements of the Pacific. And from our ports depart the men about to undergo the ordeal of battle with the Japs.

A contribution to the comfort and welfare of these men is both an obligation and a privilege of every one of us. We can do much to aid our boys physically and much to bolster their morale. And as for our Allies, relief is urgently needed for the war-wrecked communities through which our victorious armies have pushed the enemy.

Every one of us, safe here at home, should give to the War Chest to the utmost limit of his ability.

Point Loma High School to Observe Navy Day, Oct. 27

Navy Day, Oct. 27, will be observed at Pt. Loma high school with a colorful program. Anne Parrish, commissioner of cultural affairs, announces a combined program from Pt. Loma students and navy personnel from the navy office of public relations. At this time it is expected that actual awards of medals for bravery, Purple Heart, and other honors will be conferred during this program.

Program as planned follows:

1. Color guard (boys and girls) for flag salute.
2. Pt. Loma choir, Star Spangled Banner.
3. Invocation, navy guest.
4. Pt. Loma choir, "America."
5. Featured speaker and presentation of awards, navy guest.
6. Pt. Loma choir, "Anchors Away."

Students in the stage design class have made the navy emblem to use as an appropriate stage set for the occasion.

Civilian Defense - -

DISTRICT No. 7
Bayview 6101

We are not getting the cooperation we need for the filling of the Christmas boxes used here locally. It seems a lot of people feel that the war is over or nearly over, why bother? These boxes which we are asked to fill are for the patients at the various military hospitals in and around San Diego and even if the war were over there will be many who are still in the hospitals not only this Christmas, but probably for another Christmas. These men were not asked to donate a little time or money, they were ready to give their lives.

Our organization, the Women's division of Civilian Defense, is just a voluntary organization and we are not forced to do anything but we are being asked to help in this very well worth while task of bringing just a little more comfort and joy into someone's life at Christmas time.

Is it asking too much for you to give a little time and effort towards the donating or filling of one or more of these Christmas boxes? Each block should fill at least one box. Let's get together on this. If you have anything to donate and no one you know to give it to, please call Bayview 6101. Block leaders should not have to go around begging you to help, you should be ready and willing to offer your bit. Bring your donation to her.

If you are looking for an investment that will bring you a return, here is one that will pay you in the feeling and knowing that you have helped to bring some happiness into a fellow being's heart.

Boxes can be had at the Ocean Beach public school, Sunset Cliffs and Santa Monica ave., at two cents each. Also at the time you obtain the box you can get a list of the various articles that are suggested for these Christmas boxes.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS
1944 Taxes Due

Office of Tax Collector, San Diego
San Diego County, California
October 17, 1944.

Notice is hereby given that I have received the assessment rolls of San Diego County for the year 1944 and that the County, City of San Diego, City of Escondido, special school taxes and such other special assessments as appear on said assessment rolls, are due and payable as follows:

The taxes on all personal property secured by real property and one-half of the taxes on all real property will be due and payable on the first day of November, 1944 and will become delinquent on the fifth day of December next thereafter, at 5:00 o'clock p.m. and unless paid prior thereto, six percent will be added to the amount thereof, and that if said one-half be not paid before the twentieth day of April next at 5:00 o'clock, p.m. an additional three percent will be added thereto. Though the due date of taxes is not until November 1, for the convenience of the taxpayers tax payments will be accepted beginning October 25th, 1944.

That the remaining one-half, or second installment of the taxes on all real property will be payable on and after the twentieth day of January, 1945 and will become delinquent on the twentieth day of April next, at 5 o'clock, p.m. and that unless paid prior thereto, three percent will be added to the amount thereof, plus delinquent cost charge.

I have also received the 1944 assessment rolls for the Carlsbad, Kensington Park and Vista Sanitary Districts and taxes therein are payable in the same manner and at the same time as County, City of San Diego, City of Escondido, special school taxes and special assessments.

ALL TAXES MAY BE PAID AT THE TIME THE FIRST INSTALLMENT, AS HEREIN PROVIDED, IS DUE AND PAYABLE.

TAXES WILL BE RECEIVED AT THE TAX COLLECTOR'S OFFICE ONLY, ROOMS 109-112 CIVIC CENTER, 1600 PACIFIC BOULEVARD, CITY OF SAN DIEGO, COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO, BETWEEN THE HOURS OF 9 A.M. AND 5 P.M. (HOLIDAYS EXCEPTED), SATURDAY 9 A.M. TO 12 M.

COACH HANSON'S BOMBERS TO PLAY LOS ANGELES BULLDOGS NEXT SUNDAY

Resting atop the Pacific Coast Professional Football league standings with a perfect record after three starts, San Diego's Bombers attempt to strengthen their position the coming Sunday afternoon in San Diego's Balboa stadium when they play hosts to the rugged Los Angeles Bulldogs.

The Bombers really found themselves last Sunday with a sensational demonstration of power and class that dazzled some 6,000 fans, but this weekend they won't be finding the soft touch San Francisco's Packers proved to be in the 60-to-14 stadium debacle, reports Coach Larry Hanson, former play director at Ocean Beach Davis building play center.

GRADS IN OCEAN BEACH INVITED TO SAN DIEGO HIGH SCHOOL HOMECOMING

Graduates of San Diego high school now living in Ocean Beach area are invited to the 12th annual "Homecoming" celebration scheduled for Friday this week. In honor of the graduates returning for this event, San Diego high school will hold "open house" before and after the San Diego-Long Beach Poly football game to be played that evening on the high school field.

Dr. Ross Carter, '01, president of the alumni association, invites former "Hilltoppers" of 1901, 1902, 1919, and 1934 to stop in at the girls' gymnasium to share refreshments and reminiscences from 7 till 8 or 10 till 12. Old grads of the four honored classes also are invited to attend the student body's "Homecoming" dance, to be held after the game in the boys' gymnasium.

The classes of 1901, 1902, 1919, and 1934 are being featured in "Homecoming" activities this year. The class of 1924, under the chairmanship of Ernie Hulick, will hold a private reunion, planned since their graduation 20 years ago, in the Little Theatre of Russ auditorium at 7 o'clock.

Feature event of the evening activities will be the first wartime renewal of the San Diego-Long Beach Poly rivalry, oldest in Southern California's football history. Honored guests at the game will be members of the 1910 football team, the first to play Long Beach Poly.

Honor Roll of Ocean Beach Men And Women Serving in This War

Below is a partial list of the names of the men and women from Ocean Beach community serving in World War II, starting the honor roll. These names either were sent in or taken from the "In the Service" column in The News. The list, of course, is far from complete and also is likely to contain errors. The News plans to publish the list from time to time as space permits and will be glad to correct errors and to publish additions to the list as they are brought in or mailed to The News office.

Watch Your Kidneys!
Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Wounded Soldier Disgusted When Ordered to Hospital

'Shoot Them,' Says Commander When Asked What to Do About Advancing Foes

By Ernie Pyle

ON THE WESTERN FRONT.—The soldier had a white bandage around the calf of his left leg. He had loosely laced his legging back over the bandage.

He said the wound "didn't amount to a damn" and he wished they hadn't sent him back from the lines. He said he had gone through Africa and Sicily without getting wounded, and now he'd got nicked. He was disgusted.

You could sense that this guy was a fine soldier. He looked old, but probably wasn't. I took him to be a farmer. He talked like a hillbilly, and beneath his whiskers you could tell he had a big, droll face.

Ernie Pyle

He had found some long and crooked, raggedy French cigars, and he kept lighting these funny-looking things and putting them about three inches into his mouth. He wasn't nervous in the least.

Capt. Lucien Strawn, the battalion surgeon, started to put him in a jeep to go back to the aid station, but the soldier said:

"Now wait. I know where there's two more men wounded pretty bad. One of them is a lieutenant who just got back from the hospital this morning from his other wound."

The soldier said they were right up where the bullets were flying, but that if the aidmen would go he could walk well enough to guide them up there. So the doctor named off half a dozen men to go with him.

The doctor also told the unwounded German to go along and help carry. But one of the aidmen said:

"We better not have him with us. Our own men are liable to start shooting at us."

"That's right," the doctor said, "leave him here." And he named off one other American to go. After they had left the doctor said, "That's the truth, and I never even thought of it."

* * *

The doctor and I sat a while on the stairway inside the farmhouse, for shells had started hitting just outside again. But in a little bit the doctor got up and said he was going to see how the stretcher party was getting along. I said I'd like to go with him. He said o.k.

We struck out across a sloping wheatfield. It was full of huge craters left by our bombings. There was a lull in the shelling as we crossed the field, but the trouble with lulls is that you never know when they will suddenly come to an end.

As we picked our way among the craters I thought I heard, very faintly, somebody call "Help!" It's odd how things strike you in wartime. I remember thinking to myself, "Oh, pooh, that would be too dramatic—just like a book. You're just imagining it."

But the doctor had stopped, and he said: "Did you hear somebody yelling?"

So we listened again, and this time we could hear it plainly. It seemed to come from a far corner of the field, so we picked our way over in that direction.

Finally we saw him, a soldier lying on his back near a hedgerow, still yelling "Help!" as we approached. The aidmen who had started ahead of us had got down in a bomb crater when the shelling started, so the doctor now waved them to come on.

The wounded soldier was making an awful fuss. He was twisting and squirming, and moaning, "Oh, my God! Oh, my God!" He had a bandage on his right hand and there was blood on his left leg.

The doctor took his scissors and cut the legging off, then cut the laces on the shoe, and then peeled off a bloody sock and cut the pants leg up so he could see the wound. The soldier kept his eyes shut and kept squirming and moaning.

When the doctor would try to talk to him he would just groan and say, "Oh, my God!" Finally the doctor got out of him that he had had a small wound in his hand, and his sergeant had bandaged it and told him to start to the rear. Then, coming across the field, a shell fragment had got him in the leg.

The doctor looked him over thoroughly. There were two small holes just above the ankle. The doctor said they hadn't touched the bone. I think the doctor was disgusted.

He said: "He's making a hell of a fuss over nothing." Then to one of the aidmen he said, "Better give him a shot of morphine to quiet him."

Whereupon the soldier squirmed and moaned, "Oh, no, no, no! Oh, my God!" But the doctor said go ahead, and the aidman cut his sleeve up to the shoulder, stuck the needle in and squeezed the vial.

The aidman, trying to be sympathetic, said to the soldier, "It's the same old needle, ain't it?" But the soldier just groaned again and said, "Oh, my God!"

Our hillbilly soldier lit another skinny cigar, as though he were at a national convention instead of a battlefield. Then one set of the litterbearers started back with our new man, and the rest of us went on with the soldier to hunt for other wounded.

* * *

The commander of the particular regiment of the Fourth Infantry division that we have been with is one of my favorites.

That's partly because he flatters me by calling me "General," partly because just looking at him makes me chuckle to myself, and partly because I think he's a very fine soldier.

Security forbids my giving his name. He is a regular army colonel and he was overseas in the last war. His division commander says the only trouble with him is that he's too bold, and if he isn't careful he's liable to get clipped one of these days.

He is rather unusual looking. There is something almost Mongolian about his face. When cleaned up he could be a Cossack. When tired and dirty he could be a movie gangster. But either way, his eyes always twinkle.

He has a facility for direct thought that is unusual. He is impatient of the thinking that gets off onto byways.

He has a little habit of good-naturedly reprimanding people by cocking his head over to one side, getting his face below yours and saying something sharp, and then looking up at you with a quizzical smirk like a laughing cat.

One day I heard him ask a battalion commander what his position was. The battalion commander started going into details of why his troops hadn't got as far as he had hoped. The colonel cocked his head over, squinted up at the battalion commander, and said:

"I didn't ask you that. I asked you where you were."

The colonel goes constantly from one battalion to another during battle, from early light till darkness. He wears a new-type field jacket that fits him like a sack, and he carries a long stick that Teddy Roosevelt gave him. He keeps constantly prodding his commanders to push hard, not to let up, to keep driving and driving.

He is impatient with commanders who lose the main point of the war by getting involved in details—the man point, of course, being to kill.

* * *

Another of my favorites is a sergeant who runs the colonel's regimental mess. He cooks some himself, but mostly he bosses the cooking.

His name is Charles J. Murphy and his home is at Trenton, N. J. Murph is redheaded, but has had his head nearly shaved like practically all the Western Front soldiers—officers as well as men. Murph is funny, but he seldom smiles.

When I asked him what he did in civilian life, he thought a moment and then said: "Well, I was a shyster. Guess you'd call me a kind of promoter. I always had the kind of job where you made $50 a week salary and $1,500 on the side."

How's that for an honest man?

Murph and I got to talking about newspaper men one day. Murph said his grandfather was a newspaper man. He retired in old age and lived in Murph's house.

Sergeant Murphy Talks About Newspapers

"My grandfather went nuts reading newspapers," Murph said. "It was a phobia with him. Every day he'd buy $1.50 worth of 3-cent newspapers and then read them all night.

"He wouldn't read the ads. He would just read the stories, looking for something to criticize. He'd get fuming mad.

"Lots of times when I was a kid he'd get me out of bed at two or three in the morning and point to some story in the paper and rave about reporters who didn't have sense enough to put a period at the end of a sentence."

Murph and I agreed that it was fortunate his grandfather passed on before he got to reading my stuff, or he would doubtless have run amuck.

Murph never smoked cigarettes until he landed in France on D-day.

Allies Ponder Terms For Postwar Germany

Debate Amputation of Reich for Prevention Of Future War, or, Maintenance of Country as Economic Unit.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building Washington, D. C.

By the time these lines are read a brisk public discussion will be going on (I hope) on the plan suggested by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau to deindustrialize Germany. If the matter has so far escaped you let me say briefly that Mr. Morgenthau and his supporters believe that because Germany brutally mistreated her neighbors and other nations she should not only be denied all relief and rehabilitation aid but that she should have all her industrial machinery destroyed or given to other nations, her mines seized or plugged up and the nation made into a state of small farms.

"Eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, burning for burning, wound for wound, stripe for stripe."—(Exodus XXI, 24-25).

I quote the above well-known verses not to imply that the question of Germany's punishment is being decided upon moral grounds but because there are those who suggest that both the ancient law of retribution and the modern plan for a "Carthaginian peace" are considered as unwise, not on altruistic but on purely practical grounds.

To those of us who covered the Quebec conference the news of at least a part of the mission of Mr. Morgenthau at the conference came as a surprise. He was the only member of the cabinet to attend, and discussed his plan for Germany with Roosevelt and Churchill in the presence of Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, who, it is said, looked upon it with favor when Mr. Morgenthau presented it to him earlier in London. At Quebec we were told that we might infer that the secretary of the treasury came to discuss economic matters in his capacity as a member of the President's cabinet committee.

We were not told that the other two members of the committee—who were not present—opposed the Morgenthau plan; Secretary Stimson emphatically, Secretary Hull, at least negatively.

At the time we were surprised that Secretary Hull did not come to Quebec. We were more so when we learned what the Morgenthau mission had been.

Germany Big Factor In Consumer Market

Opposition to the idea of suddenly stopping all manufacturing in Germany is based purely on economic grounds by some observers, by others on political reasons. The latter are not of record but those who discuss the economic aspects of the program are very vocal.

They say that economic pressure would crack the program. That it would be inconceivable to suddenly subtract 40 or 50 million people who would be left in Germany from the world consumer market. And, of course, if Germany were allowed to produce nothing but what she could raise from the ground, she would have nothing to sell and therefore no money with which to buy the products of other nations.

There is no altruism behind that reasoning; it is based on the simple principle of the greatest good for the greatest number. Compared to the Morgenthau plan the ancient tooth-for-a-tooth method of punishment is mild, it is argued. A man with one tooth missing is still material for the dentist to work on, he can still eat and work and therefore is an asset to any community supporting a purveyor of food and other gadgets. But if you take away his earning capacity your economic activity is cut down by one unit. Multiply that by 50 millions and it goes a long way to interfering with normal trade.

There are, of course, other considerations, which still fall under the head of the practical. Maynard Keynes, the British economist, had a good deal to say on that subject in a book which he wrote on the negotiations which produced the peace treaty after World War I. Keynes was thoroughly familiar with the details of those negotiations because he was secretary to Lloyd George at the time. In his book, "The Economic Consequences of the Peace" (Harcourt, Brace, 1920—better get a copy if you can find one in print), Keynes describes the attitude in which Clemenceau approached the peace treaty in 1919.

He said that the French reasoning as expressed by Clemenceau took for granted that European wars are to be taken as normal or at least recurrent affairs. The Wilson approach was to make an effort to stop the wars. Herein rose the conflict. As soon as we adopt the view that Germany has to be crushed to prevent her from fighting again, we must adopt the Clemenceau-Morgenthau thesis of a "Carthaginian" or destructive peace.

Clemenceau Sought To Weaken Germany

There appears, however, to be a difference in motive between the Morgenthau - Clemenceau projects. The Morgenthau idea appears to be motivated chiefly on the idea that punishment will bring about a reform, while Clemenceau frankly, in the language of Keynes, wanted "to set back the clock and undo what, since 1870, the progress of Germany had accomplished. By loss of territory and other measures her population was to be curtailed; but chiefly the economic system upon which she depended for her new strength, the vast fabric built upon iron, coal and transport was to be destroyed." So far Messrs. Clemenceau and Morgenthau seem to see eye to eye. But the secretary of the treasury is not concerned particularly with transferring Germany's economic power to any other country. He certainly doesn't want to transfer it to America.

But Clemenceau felt (according to Keynes) that "if France could seize, even in part, what Germany was compelled to drop, the inequality of strength between the two rivals for European hegemony might be remedied for many generations."

"This is the policy," said Keynes, "of an old man, whose most vivid impressions and most lively imagination are of the past and not the future. He sees the issue in terms of France and Germany, not of humanity and of European civilization struggling forward towards a new order."

And so Keynes concluded that the "Carthaginian peace is not PRACTICALLY right or possible," and his prediction began to come true almost before the ink on the treaty he was writing about, was dry.

I do not know why Secretary Stimson and Secretary Hull oppose the Morgenthau plan. But it may be that they feel criticism of the peacemakers of 1919 applies today:

"The clock cannot be set back," said Keynes, A.D. 1920. "You cannot restore Central Europe to 1870 without setting up such strains in the European structure and letting loose such human and spiritual forces, as, pushing beyond frontiers and races, will overwhelm not only you and your 'guarantees,' but the existing order of society."

Wilson knew what Clemenceau was after but he thought that the League of Nations would act to right the wrongs of the peace. Clemenceau got all he could, and the "institutions" he left behind when he died as well as, for a time, the "order of society" in France were, as Keynes predicted, overwhelmed.

Perhaps Clemenceau wasn't Carthaginian enough, in his peace. Those who agree may well endorse the Morgenthau plan.

In spite of reduced employment and a decline in industrial production, salaries and wages have continued to increase during the past year. Nonagricultural wages and salaries for July, 1944, amounted to 8,983 million dollars, an increase of 9 per cent over July, 1943. The average weekly earnings in manufacturing industries for June, 1944, (the latest date for which figures are available) were $46.28. This is the highest on record and 7 per cent above June, 1943. Average weekly earnings in industries manufacturing durable goods were $52.16 in June, 1944, as compared with $37.36 for nondurable goods industries. Since it is probable that employment in industries manufacturing durable goods will decline much more than it will in nondurable goods industries, following the cessation of hostilities in Europe, the difference in earnings is unusually significant at the present time.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

The Girl Scouts of America—nearly a million—joined the War Production board's drive for the salvage of tin, paper and rags on October 1.

* * *

Fifteen-year-old German boys and 16-year-old girls have been drafted "jointly with the whole population" to work on "entrenchments along the frontier of the Reich."

The average length of life of America's industrial workers in 1943 was 63.56, only slightly lower than that of the previous year. Among white men over 35 and all white females, the expectation of life at birth in 1943 was only three months less than in the preceding year. But the longevity among white men of 20 was reduced by more than one year during 1943.

Only One Chesapeake

Owing to the misadventures of the first American naval vessel to be called the Chesapeake, the U. S. navy has never given this name to another combatant ship, says Collier's. In 1807, the captain of this frigate, unprepared to fight, struck his flag and allowed his vessel to be searched after being fired upon by H.M.S. Leopard.

GRANDMOTHER'S WAR BONDS FOR GRANDCHILDREN'S FUTURE

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live," declares John in the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. "Probation after Death" is the subject.

Paul writes in his first letter to Timothy, "Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses. . . . Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; . . . Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life."

On this subject Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "If the change called death destroyed the belief in sin, sickness, and death, happiness would be won at the moment of dissolution, and be forever permanent; but this is not so. Perfection is gained only by perfection. They who are unrighteous shall be unrighteous still, until in divine Science Christ, Truth, removes all ignorance and sin."

KEITH C. GILL, 23 GRADUATE OF PT. LOMA HIGH PASSES AWAY

Keith C. Gill, a torpedoman 3/c in the Navy, died in a San Diego hospital Sunday, at the age of 23. He had been a resident of Ocean Beach for about 15 years and graduated in 1940 from Point Loma high school, where he was prominent in athletics. His mother, Mrs. Alma S. Gill of Sunland and a brother, Edgar L. Gill of the Navy are the only members of the immediate family who survive.

Funeral services conducted by the Christian Science church were held Thursday afternoon at Bonham Bros. mortuary, and entombment was in Cypress View mausoleum.

"A true musician," observes Salty Sam, "is a man who puts his ear to the keyhole when he hears a lady singing in the bathtub."

OF THE WIRES

The Testboard Man is working day and night in Telephone Central Offices to keep your telephone service working smoothly.

It's amazing what he can do. If there should be any trouble on the lines, special instruments help him locate it within a few yards—even though it is miles away from the testing station.

This saves hours of searching by line crews. That's more important than ever these busy war days.

WHEN CALLING WAR-BUSY CENTERS

Sometimes you may hear the Long Distance operator say—"Please limit your call to 5 minutes." That's to let you know that the lines are crowded.

Police Hope for Better Set-Up at Amusement Center

Local police express hope that citizens of the Ocean each area appoint representatives to San Diego city council sessions within the next few days to represent this community in the interests of appointing a lessee for the Mission Beach Amusement center.

Report has it that the Center has caused our local police more trouble than all other neighborhoods combined. Drunken debaucheries and juvenile delinquencies have reached a point where swift action must be taken in behalf of decency and the protection of our own young people who seek clean, wholesome recreation, a local civic leader declared to The News this week.

Civic leaders have pointed out that recreation is necessary for the young people of our community, but prevailing conditions at the Mission Beach Amusement center are such that most citizens forbid their children to visit the center under the present management.

Church members in particular stress the need for a general clean-up of conditions existing at the center.

Business men ask that a man be appointed to manage the center who has the forthright knowledge and judgment to sponsor wholesome entertainment, properly supervised. "Conditions as they exist not only reflect on Ocean Beach as a home-owners community, but actually endangers the welfare of our own sons and daughters," says the local civic leader.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS OF COUNTY TO RECEIVE $2,438,374 FROM STATE

The elementary school districts of San Diego county will receive $2,438,374 from the state treasury this school year as state aid toward the education of elementary pupils, California Taxpayers' association said today. Aid for the elementary schools in the county this year is based on an average daily attendance of 36,504 and on 1,222 teacher units in the county.

Total state aid for elementary schools in California this year will be $50,676,686, based on 750,825 pupils in average daily attendance and 25,554 teacher units.

This is made up of the $60 plus per pupil required by the state constitution and $6 per pupil set aside by the legislature.

Braise the Meat to Make It Tender
(See Recipes Below)

Braise the Meat

If you're making the most of your red points these days, you're buying the less expensive cuts of meat. And how do you prepare them?

The answer is in braising, long, slow, moist heat cooking which tenderizes the meat, browns it perfectly, and gives the meat tenderness and flavor. Pot roasts, short ribs, swiss steaks, and meats cooked slowly with vegetables—all these come under the head of braising.

There's plenty of good eating in this type of cooking, but your meats are low in point value. Too, they have the same high quality protein as the more expensive cuts, and just as many of the precious B vitamins (riboflavin, thiamine and niacin), and the minerals, iron, copper and phosphorus.

Now, here are delicious ways of preparing those inexpensive cuts of meat.

Swiss Steak
(Serves 6)

Round or arm steak, cut 2 inches thick
Flour, salt, pepper
1 onion, thinly sliced
2 tablespoons lard
2 cups tomatoes
1 carrot, diced
1 small green pepper, sliced
½ cup water

Mix flour, salt and pepper. Pound into steak. Brown steak in lard, add vegetables and water. Cover pan and cook in slow (300-degree) oven for 2½ hours. Add more water if needed. Serve with vegetables poured over the steak.

Pork Shoulder Steaks
(Serves 3 to 4)

3 shoulder steaks
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons lard
1 small onion
1 cup tomatoes
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper.

Dredge the shoulder steaks in flour and brown in hot lard. Slice onions over them, add tomatoes and seasonings. Cover and cook slowly until steaks are done, about 45 to 60 minutes, according to the thickness of the steaks.

Braised Oxtail or Neck Bones.
(Serves 5 or 6)

1 oxtail (2 pounds) or
2 pounds neck bones
Flour
1 small onion, sliced
¼ cup flour for gravy

Lynn Chambers' Point-Saving Menu

*Braised Short Ribs of Beef
Gravy Vegetables
Cabbage Cole Slaw
Toasted Rusk Grape Jelly
Spice Cake
*Recipe Given

1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
⅔ cup carrots, diced
Sprig of parsley
Half of bay leaf
Clove of garlic
1 cup tomatoes
Bacon drippings

Rub skillet with clove of garlic. Wash oxtail, chop at each joint or cut neck bones apart. Roll each piece in seasoned flour, then brown meat evenly on all sides in bacon drippings.

Add onions, carrots, parsley, bay leaf, tomatoes, salt and pepper. Cover tightly, simmer 3½ hours. Add more liquid during cooking, if necessary. If desired, thicken the gravy with flour mixed with cold water.

Braised cuts are not only appetizingly browned but they can be dressed up prettily for serving with a colorful array of vegetables. Take these next two suggestions, for example:

Braised Short Ribs of Beef.
(Serves 6)

2 pounds short ribs of beef
Flour, salt, pepper
5 potatoes, peeled
5 carrots, scraped
5 onions, peeled
2 stalks celery
½ cup green pepper, diced
Shortening

Mix flour, salt and pepper. Rub into meat. Brown in shortening on all sides. Add ½ cup water and cover meat. Simmer for 2 hours or until tender. During last 45 minutes of cooking time, add vegetables. Remove meat and vegetables to platter, thicken gravy with flour and pour over meat and vegetables.

Braised Stuffed Breast.
(Serves 6)

Lamb Breast
2 tablespoons lard
Salt and pepper
3 tablespoons chopped celery
1½ tablespoons chopped onion
6 tablespoons butter
2 cups fine bread crumbs
¼ cup mint leaves, fresh or dried
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Have pocket cut into lamb breast from the large end. Sprinkle inside and out with salt and pepper.

To make stuffing, brown celery and onions in the melted butter. Add bread crumbs, mint leaves and seasonings. Stir until thoroughly mixed and place into pocket of roast. Fasten edges together with skewers. Brown breast on all sides in hot lard, add ½ cup hot water, cover tightly and cook slowly until done, from ½ to 2 hours.

Stuffed Veal Steak.

The same stuffing as used in the lamb breast may be used for veal steak, if mint leaves are omitted. Have two pounds of veal steak cut ¼ inch thick. Spread the stuffing over the meat and roll. Fasten with skewers, and braise as directed for lamb breast.

Most braised meats are hearty and should have light accompaniments. Try a green vegetable or crisp salad and very light dessert such as chiffon pudding, custard or stewed fruit and berries with cookies. As garnishes for the main dish use parsley, watercress, sliced raw onions, carrot tops or spiced fruit.

Do you have recipes or entertaining suggestions which you'd like to pass on to other readers? Send them to Miss Lynn Chambers, Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago 6, Illinois.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lynn Says:

Definition of Terms: Braising means to dredge meat with flour, salt and pepper, then brown in hot fat, add water or vegetable juices and cook slowly until meat is tender. The cooking may be done either on top of the range or in the oven. This method is frequently referred to as pot roasting.

Stewing means to brown meat in hot fat, add water (more than in braising) and vegetables, and simmer meat until it is thoroughly done.

Roasting means to bake in the oven to degree of doneness and is a method used for more expensive, tender cuts of meat.

Pan-broiling is cooking in a skillet on top of the range. Fat is not added except to meat patties.

Broiling means placing meat on an open rack in the broiler and cooking the meat quickly, without water or fat.

Fall Fabrics Place Emphasis On Color and Serviceability

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WHAT this year's fabrics lack in variety and novelty is made up for in color, serviceability and pattern interest, to which add the clever self-fabric manipulation by designers, who are displaying utmost resourcefulness in creating stunning fashions out of simple dependably wearable materials.

Not all fabrics are available these days. Silk is about out of the picture and supplies of velvet are limited. So it is up to wools, rayons and cottons to rise to occasion, which they have most gallantly, taking care of the situation beautifully throughout every phase of fashion. Especially noteworthy is this year's output of rayon fabrics which includes weaves that tune to every fashion demand from sturdy made-for-hard-wear types to dressy and glamour types.

An early fall star is spun rayon gabardine. This fabric is being used for intriguingly tailored sports dresses and suits, in soft pastels and bright shades. Spun rayon flannel is also a popular fall and winter fabric for dresses and soft tailored suits. It is especially chic in chalk stripes and plaids. Incidentally light-background plaids are newest and are preferred this year.

Blends of spun rayon and wool in dress weights are being used for those warm dresses done in pastels and high shades, which so definitely fill a winter need. Another interesting fabric for warm dresses is brushed jersey. This looks like duvetyn and has lovely drape and comfort.

The outstanding dressier rayons are mossy crepe, rayon faille, moire and jersey. Strictly in the running as to style are the drape dresses, which make striking color contrast their theme. The attractive model to the left in the illustration brings the jumper frock of your school days up-to-date in that it boldly contrasts one color against another. Dark green with lime is a delight to the eye. Black used with Cherbourg blue is ever so smart and you will like Parma blue with deep purple.

Centered in the group is a rayon faille frock that's one of those sophisticate - simplicity types that young girls adore. It's the sort that will make your GI Joe's heart go double time. The lowcut square neckline is the very essence of flattery. Its flared skirt is grace itself and the three-quarter sleeves call attention to your pretty hands. It is perhaps smartest in black but you'll love it in a delectable color, too. Rayon failles are also important for dressmaker suits made eye-appealing with sparkling jeweled buttons. While limited in quantity there are some dressier rayons shown with "pattern interest." These include jacquards especially smart for dressy blouses and evening wraps also mattelasses and moires and some very lovely pastel brocades for waistcoats.

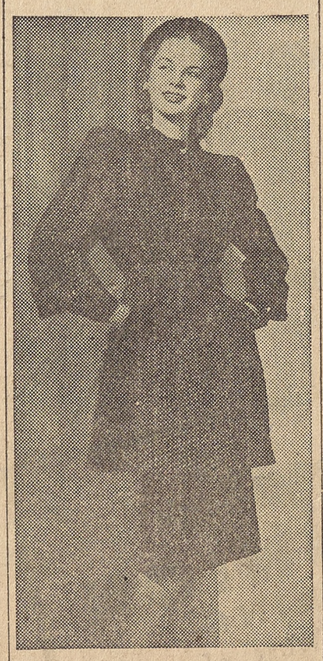

A dressy junior style done in young and gay jersey is pictured to the right. It is starred with gold nailheads for glamour. The fashion moguls predict this will be a favorite for those moments when you want to dress up—yet be not too dressy.

To make the most of a limited supply of rayon satins and rayon velvets, designers are using these fabrics as trimmings in way of bows, insets and midriff yokes to highlight plain wool and crepe dresses.

This year's rayons are especially designed for good service. Many of the fabrics are washable and have been tested for color and other qualities. The best way of finding out about washability and other service qualities is to look for informative labels on dresses and fabrics.

New Silhouette

This drama coat for evening designed by Pauline Trigero gives something new in way of both fabric and silhouette. Fashioned of Ducharne brocade in midnight blue, it takes on the new "tunic lines" which this year appear in coats, suits and two-piece dresses. Very ultra also are the new blouses made of brocade.

Belts of Medieval Splendor Stylish

Belts have become a theme of high importance. They are being so richly bejeweled and embroidered they reflect a look of medieval splendor. When you wear one of these luxury belts with your simple black dress you need not another trimming accent. In the new collections you will come across such eye-intriguing types as the belt of purple velvet that is embroidered with gold thread and tiny white pearls, a scroll work being applied in gold kid. Colorful stones with gilt embroidery give to a black suede belt a precious antique look. Beauvais embroidery is a young way of adding dressiness to colored suede belts. A cummerbund style in bright green has a pink and green floral motif. Of course these belts come in the luxury class but any woman or girl who can sew and has creative talent can buy a simple velvet, ribbon or suede belt and enrich it with intriguing embroidery and various artful accents.

Sweater Dress New

A fashion that is eminently practical and goodlooking and is heralded as carrying an air of style prestige is found in the new sweater dress which just recently made its appearance in the fashion scene. From all signs the sweater dress is going to prove a winner because it is so smartly wearable about town and through the day's round of activities. A successful model that has captured feminine fancy, tops a black skirt with a long-torso jacket sweater done in gray and white knit. Throw a handsome fox stole over one shoulder.

JAPANESE PROBLEM IN LARGE CITIES

BEFORE PEARL HARBOR 90 per cent, and more, of the Japs in this country were in the Pacific coast states. After Pearl Harbor the army cleaned them out and locked them up in concentration camps as a measure of safety.

Today large numbers of those Japs the army locked up are being liberated and colonized in many sections of the United States, much to the dissatisfaction of the people that are their new neighbors.

I lived in Chicago for many years, more than half a century. My home was on the South Side of the city, facing the lake. It was a desirable residence section within the city limits. Near and around me were many excellent homes, fine apartment buildings and residential hotels. Within a block of where I lived there is today a colony of Japs. The federal government is said to have strongly indicated to the owner of an apartment house that he must provide space for a Jap family. When he did it was not one family, but several that moved into the one apartment. White families moved out, and that apartment building today houses a colony of Japs. Men and women are finding jobs, at low wage scales, as house servants, much to the satisfaction of those for whom they work, but very much to the dissatisfaction of the people of the neighborhood in which the Japs live.

On Kenmore and Kenwood avenues, near the campus of the University of Chicago, other Jap colonies have been located by the same methods and with the same results. The whites are moving out and real estate values are going down.

Since World War I, when Chicago experienced a great influx of southern Negroes, the South Side of the city had what was considered a Negro problem. The colored people did not advance into the sections that have now been captured by the Japs. The whites say the Negroes would have been preferable.

That is one point on which Chicago, and other metropolitan centers, have lost the peace.

FARM CREDIT SINCE 1933

OVER THE PAST FEW YEARS no farm owner, tenant farmer or share-cropper need have been without a government loan. The one quality needed to secure it was persistence. The fly in the ointment was finding the particular bureau, administration, corporation or association that would make a loan on what the applicant had to offer, or for the purpose for which he wanted it. Loans could be had for the purpose of buying a farm, paying off a mortgage, purchase of machinery or live stock, erecting farm buildings, buying seed, or to pay the grocer or the doctor, if you found the right source from which money was available. From one of the more than 10 sources from which the farmer could get money, the Farm Credit administration, 6,096,026 farmers borrowed $9,631,900,000 between 1933 and December 31, 1943. Of that amount $2,423,000,000 was still on the books at the end of last year.

RUSSIA WILL CALL THE PLAY IN EUROPE

IN WASHINGTON A FIVE YEAR waiting period between the end of the war in Europe and any effort to write definite peace terms, is being talked. Former President Hoover proposed several years of waiting time, but he also proposed an immediate reestablishment of all European national boundaries as they existed before the first German attack. That will not be accepted, especially by Russia. That portion of Poland east of the Curzon line will remain Russian. The Baltic states will become states in the Russian republic. Bessarabia will not be returned to Romania. Poland will occupy and hold East Prussia and Danzig. Finland can take its choice of paying Russia a heavy indemnity or becoming a state in the Russian republic. What we may say about it all will not count for much.

A FEW YEARS AGO, when in Hawaii, I made inquiries regarding the loyalty and adaptability of the Japs, who constitute a large portion of the population of the islands. Then I was convinced that all, or practically all, second and third generation Japs were good American citizens. I have revised my appraisal. I doubt if it is possible for the American melting pot to remove the dross from the Jap character.

Large-Sized Vestee By Popular Request

Pattern No. 5640

SO MANY readers have asked that I design a "large-size" vestee which could be easily knitted that I've done this one specially for sizes 38, 40, 42 and 44. Made in maroon or wine-colored yarn it's just the sort of winter vestee which is most popular. Button the lapel over for added warmth under your coat—wear the vestee for comfort in a too chilly house. And it will make a wonderful Christmas gift for the woman who is too busy to do her own knitting!

To Relieve Bad Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

Big Saving. No Cooking. So Easy.

You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can relieve coughs due to colds, when you try this splendid recipe. It gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money, and you'll find it truly wonderful.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle. Add your syrup and you have a full pint of medicine that will amaze you by its quick action. It never spoils, and tastes fine.

This simple mixture takes right hold of a cough. For real results, you've never seen anything better. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Open space between garments hanging in a closet helps them to hold the press and keeps them from getting a stringy look.

Sew a piece of strong material inside the back of the cuffs on men's pants. This will prevent that frayed appearance.

A tablespoonful of epsom salts added to the starch will greatly stiffen articles such as men's collars.

Dusters that have become very soiled and greasy are more easily cleaned and give better results if a tablespoon of paraffin is added to every gallon of water in which they are washed. Rinse in boiling water and afterwards in cold.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Economic conditions in the Latin-American countries have been greatly influenced by the demand for natural rubber. This is evidenced by the report that Nicaragua shipped to the U. S. 1,267 tons of rubber in 1943 as compared with only 60 tons sent us in 1941.

The B-29 Super fortress, our largest aerial weapon, has built into it some 5,000 pounds of rubber, covering more than 200 items. Thirty bullet-sealing fuel tanks alone account for nearly two tons of rubber.

Rubber Director Dewey is authority for the statement that heavy-duty military tires made with 70 per cent synthetic rubber and rayon cord are better than the best military tires made before the war.

Talk on Drugs Features Club Meeting Oct. 12

A talk on dangerous drugs and the harvest motif decorations used featured the October meeting of the Ocean Beach Woman's club, held Thursday afternoon, Oct. 12, in the clubhouse at 2160 Bacon st. More than 50 women were in attendance.

The address was by Mrs. Frank Stemen, county Federation chairman of narcotics, in which she said in part that the "drug problem will be even more serious in the post-war days ahead." In the order of their potency, she listed the dangerous drugs as opium, morphine, heroin, cocaine and marijuana. Marijuana, once a great danger to high school students, is now arriving in very small quantities and cigarets are selling at $1 each, she said.

At the business session a committee consisting of Mesdames B. H. Nielsen, Frank F. Swan, Paul Hendrickson, James Oliver and Julia McGarvey, was named to assist Mrs. Morris Fried, Red Cross department chairman, in sponsoring a campaign for 500 Christmas boxes for hospitalized service-men. Mrs. Fried reported on the Red Cross sewing that the women are carrying on each Tuesday at the clubhouse.

Seasonal fruits and vegetables were artistically arranged as centerpieces for the tables, at which the noon luncheon was served by a committee consisting of Mesdames D. R. Wallace, Wm. Neujahr, Glenn Jones, Alfred Bedworth, Arthur A. Henry and B. H. Nielsen.
